BIOGRAPHY

Cindy Scott is Canadian born and has spent half of her life living in Australia. She has a son who has been her greatest life achievement. She is very familiar with navigating challenges and managing change; the perfect training bed to empower and enable others to do the same.

She is an author, speaker, podcast host, coach and founder passionate about women's empowerment, positive mindset during cancer treatment, leadership, resilience, emotional intelligence and well-being.

She is a multi-passionate entrepreneur utilising her unique blend of talents and experience to empower women to see their potential, navigate life's major transitions and take proactive steps to living a vibrant, beautiful, purposeful life.

Cindy is the Founder and CEO of Evolving Women Co, a platform for women who are experiencing change and uncertainty and seeking sanctuary to take pause, to breathe, skill-up and flourish. She is the host of the successful podcast, Rethinking Cancer.

A former corporate leader, human resources professional, leadership development Consultant, facilitator and certified Executive Coach for some of Australia's foremost leaders and companies and creator of her signature women's leadership program, Strive; Real Women, Real Power.

She is the author of the Healing Journal: The Gift of Cancer and creator of the Healing Journey Support Program, a divine guidebook and online program born amidst her darkest hours undergoing treatment for breast cancer and her way of paying it forward and helping women navigating the emotional upheaval of a cancer journey.

Cindy now travels the world speaking (virtually these days!), speaking, writing and inspiring women around feminine leadership, resilience, empowerment, entrepreneurship, emotional intelligence, mindset and wellbeing.

She works with high performing female entrepreneurs and executive leaders who are looking for more balance and peace as they power ahead in their work or are navigating significant life-impacting change; she runs women's leadership programs for some of the world's most innovative and evolved companies and writes regularly about things that matter to modern women.

SPEAKING

Over the past 25 years, Cindy has coached, trained and spoken to thousands of people, inspiring and empowering them to create real and intentional change. Whether that's in global organisations like KPMG, Mondelez, Langham, Qantas and GlaxoSmithKline, non-profits like World Vision or events for female entrepreneurs, she relishes opportunities to engage with inquiring minds and open hearts and have conversations that truly make a difference.

As the Founder and CEO of Evolving Women Co, Cindy speaks on a range of topics including: building resilience, managing change, positive mindset, authentic leadership, feminine leadership, influence and impact, confidence and wellbeing.

HEALING JOURNAL

BUY NOW

IT'S YOUR TRUSTED GUIDEBOOK TO NAVIGATE YOUR CANCER JOURNEY
AND YOUR PERMISSION SLIP TO HEAL YOUR BODY, MIND AND SOUL

Healing Journal - The Gift Of Cancer has been created by Cindy Scott for those wishing to capture and reflect on their cancer journey through writing, from diagnosis and throughout treatment.

Whether you have just been diagnosed, or are already down the path of treatment, this journal is a safe space to write on a variety of topics. From the stages of grief, denial and anger, to loneliness, positive mindset, envisioning, gratitude - guided writing prompts are provided every step of the way.

This journal provides an opportunity to lean into your feelings, to release that which needs to be expressed. And to make peace.

Through the proven therapeutic benefits of writing, this journal will allow you to self-explore, heal and enhance the wellbeing of your body, mind and soul as you traverse the journey of cancer.

This journal can also be a gift to people who you know are struggling with a cancer diagnosis. In a time when you want to help and don't know how, this can help.

MEDIA + ENDORSEMENTS

Interviews

I love to have discussions and share my experiences to inspire and create change. Sharing ideas and holding meaningful conversations is one of my absolutely favourite things. If you would like to interview me for a podcast, magazine, television or radio show, documentary or something else, please contact me.

Collaborations

Collaborations are my jam! If you have a great idea to make more magic in our world then I am all ears. That might be creating a unique women's leadership program, aligning products or services that support women through change or becoming an affiliate for the work we do. If you feel there is a nice alignment, then please connect with me.
